With presence in 12 LatAm markets, it entered the US market in 2018 launching 5 niche high value Injectables and Ophthalmic products till date.

Today it has a pipeline of 33 products, 19 ANDA Filings with 9 approvals.

Leveraging it's US products, it is in advanced discussions with partners for extending US products to Canada and Australia. Target is to file 9 products in Canada and 3 in Australia within the next 12 months.

CaplinPoint is also backward integrating into API for these complex injectable products which will drive profits and ensure cost control.

Future growth expected from the Injectables will help sustain the growth rate and the margins. It is indeed credible that despite the robust expansion plans, it continues to be Debt (net) free.

Consolidated sale from new geographies and new products along with backward and forward integration will strengthen the company's hold in the global markets.

Given the above points, we believe Caplin to be a good investment idea.
